2014 annual program report

from the president

The YWCA Central Alabama has long been an important force in our community, largely because we have such wonderful support from the community. We work hard to help women, children and families in crisis rebuild their lives, and we are proud that our programs help those who are hurting grow stronger.

This past year ended in the most wonderful way for our beloved YW. Yolanda Sullivan was officially named CEO in December 2014 after serving in the position on an interim basis since January. When Suzanne Durham retired after leading the agency for 34 years, there was concern that finding someone with the same passion and love for the YWCA and its mission would be difficult at best.

We shouldn't have worried. Yolanda, who had served as president of both the Junior Board and Board and had been volunteering with the YW for 20 years, was the perfect choice. She gets what we do and why we do it, and her compassion for those we serve and her desire to do whatever it takes to help the vulnerable in our community made her the perfect choice.

Our dedicated staff did not miss a beat during this year of transition. The YWCA sheltered homeless families and domestic violence victims and their children during the lowest points of their lives. We provided permanent and transitional housing for more than 400 low-income and special needs individuals. We gave homeless children the best care possible, allowing them to grow, learn and play despite the upheaval in their lives. And we taught high school students to respect and embrace those who have different skin colors, cultures, beliefs or abilities so that they can help build a better community.

None of it could have happened without you, our faithful supporters and tireless volunteers. We are so grateful to you for investing your time, talents and resources in the lives of those we are so honored to serve. Thank you for caring and for helping to renew hope and transform lives.

Watching our staff, volunteers and supporters make magic happen has been the highlight of my past four years as Board President. It has been an honor to have served alongside so many wonderful people who truly have a heart for others, and I am thrilled to be able to pass the torch to our new president, Brenda Hackney. I am certain that under her leadership, our YWCA will continue to grow and thrive. I can't wait to see what the next chapter in our storied history brings!

Sincerely,

Kathryn Harbert
YWCA Board President

2014 year in review

For more than 111 years, the YWCA Central Alabama has responded to the needs of women, children and families and helped them get stronger by providing: child development and after-school enrichment programs for homeless children, affordable housing, domestic violence services and social justice programs.

Here's a look at some of the ways the YWCA Central Alabama changed lives in 2014:

Domestic Violence

- provided 13,407 nights of safety for 197 adults and 190 children in two shelters and responded to 2,086 calls to the Crisis Line (205-322-4878)
- guided 3,617 victims through the courts and provided legal services to 416 survivors
- taught 3,831 students about healthy dating relationships
- delivered safe visitation and exchange services to 179 men, women and children

Housing

- provided 80,300 nights of safe, decent, affordable housing to 298 low-income individuals and 6,821 nights of shelter to homeless families
- delivered 15,930 nights of transitional housing for 50 adults and 47 children in 28 apartments
- 39 low-income elderly and special needs individuals resided 11,815 nights in permanent housing

Child Development

- provided 15,361 days of care to 123 children in the child development program for children of homeless and low-income families
- served 79 homeless children with 3,114 days of academic programs and tutoring through the After-School Enrichment program
- distributed 3,735 toys and clothing items for 498 children ages newborn to 18 through Santa's Workshop

Social Justice

- 38 AmeriCorps members contributed 54,489 hours of service to the YWCA, our partner agencies and the community
- equipped more than 450 youth to break down barriers and build bridges through leadership programs such as Anytown Alabama, a partnership with NCCJ
- awarded 942 people 9,970 free clothing items through My Sister's Closet and provided 167 prom dresses to economically disadvantaged high school girls
