YWCA IS ON A MISSION

Dear YW Friends,

Thank you! I chose to begin my annual message with a simple thank you for every way you have supported YWCA Central Alabama this year. All that we are, we owe it to the thousands of donors, volunteers, and community and funding partners who have invested their time and resources to enable us to serve our community.

Your support of our very first virtual Purse & Passion fundraiser was remarkable! This event's success became a model for other organizations to follow during the pandemic, not just in our community but also across the region. You stepped up in a big way to provide meals for our families, personal protective equipment for our shelters, and toys and books for families in need during the holidays. Your generosity helped many families create a sense of normalcy in a year that was far from normal.

YWCA is dedicated to eliminating racism, empowering women, and promoting peace, justice, freedom, and dignity for all. The mission statement represents more than words on a piece of paper; it is foundational to who we are. Our mission defines our values, our culture; it is our North Star. We are a social justice organization. Our programs are born out of the belief that everyone deserves an affordable place to call home; everyone deserves access to quality childcare, education, and enrichment opportunities; and everyone deserves safety from abuse and economic security.

The year tested our grit and resilience in ways none of us could have imagined. The nationwide “shecession” threatened the future of work for women, especially women of color, who were largely impacted by job loss coupled with the loss of childcare. We were in a public health and economic crisis, and women were carrying the heaviest burden. During this time, the world erupted in outrage over the murders of George Floyd and Breonna Taylor, renewing the call for racial justice. Many of us asked ourselves, “How will we show up in this moment?” Well, the YWCA cannot be silent; we are not only a service provider but also an advocate for reform and justice. We hosted several conversations on racial disparities, civic engagement opportunities, and advocacy at the federal level for nonprofit COVID funding relief. This work will carry on in the coming year.

As we move our mission forward in 2021, we will continue to build strategic partnerships and measure our work's impact along the way. We are excited to build out our economic empowerment and supportive services framework, which places women on a path towards gender equity and poverty eradication.

We will focus our strategic efforts on three priority areas:

1. Advance Social and Racial Justice
2. Promote a Growth Mindset Culture
3. Achieve Financial Viability and Sustainability

I am blessed to lead this incredible organization at such a time as this and could not be prouder of my team, who never slowed down, and whose passion for service never wavered. I am honored to partner with our new Board President, Andrea McCaskey, in these efforts! My sincere thanks to all of you for your support of the YW through the years, but especially in a year such as 2020.

We are strong alone, but fierce together!

In solidarity,

Dr. LaRhonda S. Magras, YWCA Central Alabama CEO

from the president

Dear YW Friends and Family,

As we prepare to welcome incoming Board President, Andrea McCaskey, I would like to take this opportunity to reflect on the past year's accomplishments.

These are unprecedented times and from within the uncertainty, my optimism is born from the fact that our YW staff has demonstrated their unprecedented commitment to responding to the needs of our community. While schools and some businesses closed down because of COVID, our YW staff was still busy at work. In the last 365 days, our shelter doors remained open to ensure our clients had a path from harm to hope. We walked side by side to Kelly Ingram Park with our YW family to elevate our voices in our drive for social and racial justice.

Although the events of last year presented challenges on many fronts, we remained steady and our commitment to those we serve never wavered. And I could not be prouder to have partnered with our incredible CEO, Dr. LaRhonda Magras. She stood tall and continued to dream, hope, be bold and courageous throughout 2020. I have enjoyed my time with the hard-working YW staff, leadership, and stakeholders as Board President.

Now the time has come for me to take my place with our past presidents and be a resource to our new YWCA board president. I am thrilled to have Andrea take the board reigns, for her years of experience and service will certainly leave an imprint on the YW.

I have loved my last 3 years as president of the YW Board. I know I learned more from working with our staff, board members and community partners than I could ever have given. The friends I have gained and the knowledge of our community are invaluable. Thank you all.

In service,

Maggie Brooke, YWCA Central Alabama 2020 Board President
